PROFILE INFO

I am well-versed with Design Graphic and basic android developer. I studied at the State University of Semarang, majoring in electrical engineering, and I followed the organization in the department for 2 years, where I was in the information technology department, which was closely related to technology and information, such as graphic design and programming. Besides love about design graphic, I am also very interested in the Kotlin programming language, because with one programming language I can continue my hobby of making websites, Android applications, and even iOS applications. And by joining the Bangkit Academy program I am now closer to that, create android application using kotlin.
